If you are a veteran or served in a civilian war industry, you possess a valuable resource in your war memories and military experience, and we encourage you to participate as both an interviewer and an interviewee. West Virginia's veterans, active military personnel, and civilians are encouraged to contact the WVU School of Journalism to find out more about partner organizations around the state.

For more information about West Virginia’s Veterans History Project, visit veteranshistory.wvu.edu